DETAILED ACTION

No claims were amended via Paper No. 4. Claims 1-23 are pending in the instant application.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 20, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Per the Attorney's request is a copy of Provisional Application 60/224240 filed on August 10, 2000. Provisional Application 60/224240 has support for material relied on in Patent Application Publication US 2002/0059131.

The Examiner notes, "Entitlement definitions" as defined by the instant invention's specification relates to a broker's entitlement profile matrix which is made available for the broker, such that products and services which do not meet the parameters of the profile matrix are not presented for bidding to that broker (Patent Application 09/801613: Page 16).

This is functionally equivalent to the system defined in Goodwin. Goodwin provides one or more forms to the seller, such as pricing forms, so that the seller can provide the system with some of the information needed to compute a price for the financial product. In one embodiment, the system stores a profile of the seller, such that portions of the forms can be "filled out" by the system in advance. The profile of a seller, in one embodiment, also stores other information provided by a seller, such as preferences, criteria for accepting bids, restrictions on bids (e.g., certain users may be prohibited from bidding), restrictions on access to information (bidders may be required to sign on and/or acknowledge specific conditions before receiving information).

Art Unit: 3625

specification of type of bidding to occur (e.g., type of auction), permission for the system to accept bids on behalf of the user, etc (paragraph 0111).

The Attorney argues that Goodwin does not provide a "Guest Option."

The Examiner notes Goodwin (paragraph 0070) does disclose a subsystem providing user management functions for users of the system. These users, in at least one embodiment, can be sellers and potential sellers of financial products, buyers and potential buyers of financial products, so-called market observers (users who can view the transactions occurring on the site and/or the financial products available on the site, but who are not necessarily participating in any transactions), visitors, "guest" users, auditing personnel, etc.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action.
